

On Saturday, August 27 we again open our collection for viewing, and fittingly will be highlighting the work the Olmsted firm did in advocating and designing our National Parks. From the drafting of the Organic Act that gave birth to the National Park Service in 1916, to the projects they worked on from Acadia to Yosemite, visitors will see how much of our nation's "Best Idea" was shaped here at Fairsted. Explore original plans, drawings, and photographs at your own pace from 12 pm to 3 pm.